

Catherine Ihematunam Nwosu

March 23, 1947 - January 30, 2024

Catherine Ihematunam (Ihenacho) Nwosu passed away Tuesday, January 30, 2024, at her home in Little Elm, Tx. She was born March 23, 1947, into the noble family of Christopher Edonanze Ihenacho and Cyrina Nwaobiala Nwolu (Ibe) Ihenacho of Akalovo, Emekuku, Owerri North Local Government of Imo State.

Catherine loved her family and friends. She was a selfless caregiver and was always providing for others first. She wanted nothing more than for those around her to be happy. Catherine was a pillar of strength and resilient no matter the odds. She was simple and concise with the way she lived her life. She loved to dance and enjoyed cooking.

Catherine is survived by her daughter, Ogechi Nwosu (Scott Clifton) Kimpson; son, Stanley Nwosu; bonus son, Kelechi Nwosu; granddaughters, Amarachi Kimpson and Shiloh Kimpson; grandson, Chinasa Kimpson; sister, Margaret Ihenacho; nephew, Richard Okwu; and many other nieces and nephews.

Catherine is preceded in death by her husband, Francis Nwosu; son, Ikechukwu Nwosu, parents, Christopher and Cyrina Ihenacho; brothers, Joseph and Anthony Ihenacho; sisters, Magdeline Ashimole, Celine and Paulina Ihenacho.

Catherine's service will be held Saturday, February 10, 2024, at 10:00AM at Slay Memorial Funeral Chapel in Aubrey, TX. Interment will follow at Little Elm Cemetery in Little Elm, Tx.

ME

“ Catherine (Kate) Nwosu was one of my best friends. I met Kate in 1978 when she first came to the United States. We all lived in Gainesville, Texas at the time as students. We had been friends since then, until the last day she took her last breath. I became very close to Kate because of her personalities. She was reserved humble polite, and very private. She was not arrogant and was dedicated to her family. When she got sick, it took her a while to let me know. This was how private she was and never wanted me to tell anyone. I requested to visit with her several times, but she declined; which I respected. On January 29th, last week, I received a devastating news from her daughter that she was placed on hospice. I couldn't contain myself. I was upset shaky, and speechless. I was available to go see her on Wednesday, the 31st. Coming back from my doctor's appointment on Tuesday, I received a call that she was gone. I said to myself that it could not be true, but it was. A sign that she didn't want to bother me. I miss you dearly my friend. Your humility, friendship, I will cherish. I love you Kate and mostly your beautiful soul. I know that you and Franco are now holding hands together in heaven. May your humble soul rest in perfect peace!!!!

“ Ndam Kate...Chika, Nedu, Stephanie Sharon, Ify, Ebube and and your grand niece Amarachi,.are devastated at your call to glory. Where do I start to tell about your gentle soul,...you could let us know because you knew how painful and bitter it will be..for us to swallow. You were indeed a lion and a lamb..solid in the inside and soft on the outside...Virtuous woman indeed..a good wife mother..sister..and friend.....Rest in peace dear loved one...you are unforgettable...
