They had been married 52 years when Mary passed away in 1986. Finley was a farmer, carpenter, and hardware store owner and operator for many years in Pilot Point. He was a slightly-built man with a lot of energy and a mind of his own. He enjoyed his family, talking to anybody, deer hunting, the mountains of Colorado, and the expanses of western New Mexico. He is now free and able to walk down those timeless trails with the many loved ones who have been waiting a long time for him. “ Our condolences to Finley's family. We will always remember Finley as that friendly man who "worked" at Whites Auto. He never appeared to be the owner who was there just to make money, he was always that friendly helper who was there to serve his customers. Ruth & I enjoyed just dropping by to visit and hear his stories whether we needed to purchase anything or not - and that suited him just fine. He was a good man and we certainly enjoyed knowing him during our stay in Pilot Point.
