“ Helen and I became good friends last year when I wanted someone to help me improve my cribbage game. We played and chatted about our lives. Both of us loved to go camping. Sometimes we'd go for a walk together; it was a challenge to keep up with her. One night she made dinner for us. That's when I found out she was an excellent cook. I will miss her kindness and her friendship.

“ Helen was a loving, giving, caring woman who reached out to everyone...no questions asked. She was not merely a resident where I work but a friend, someone that I saw almost every day and I looked forward to doing so. She made me laugh and we had fun in Laughter Yoga! She sat right next to me every Saturday morning at seated line dance...and danced with us at regular line dancing. I will miss her. She taught me and others to reach out and help people every day. Helen, rest in peace and memory eternal. You will not be forgotten. Your kindness now ripples throughout our world!
