“ Dear Inman family,I would like to share my deepest condolences for your loss. I have known Stacy many years and almost all of my adult working career. I couldn't not imaging a better way to share a testament of the legacy a mother can have in this world as to the children of whom she has raised. Stacy is a person who I look to as being a moral compass and compassionate soul. His character is proof to me as to the impact of how one has been raised and who raised him. Mrs Inman, please take comfort in your passing that you have changed the world for the better in those children whom you have raised.
