“ Oh Kim, the memories of our long friendship I will never forget. Over the past few days I relived a lot of them in my mind starting from the first day we met. As I am writing this, it looks bleak at being able to attend a memorial service for you...however, I am going to celebrate your life by myself and I hope with you in spirit. You came to Temple for for Labor day wkend 3 yrs ago next week. Chinese Dynasty, best fried pies we had ever eaten, you even loved the coconut one! Antique shopping downtown, then off to the Central Texas Fair to see Kevin Fowler. You seemed genuinely happy! We had plenty of vendors at the fair and you had you heart set on a simple wedding band, but you were going to engrave Taner's dates in it. You found the one you chose to buy from and got your ring. You had so much fun seeng the concert, we had a blast! Next weekend, Kevin Fowler will actually be playing again, so as my memorial and celabration of life in your honor, I am going to re enact that day, believing you are there with me. But this time I am going to find a ring for me with engraving as a lasting memory of you. And I know from little things I found in the duplex when I moved it was you letting me know you were saying you loved me. Goodbye my sister for now, till we meet again.

“ I love you more than just about anyone on this earth. I have a lot to share, but I have to make sure I write it well. I need to compose my thoughts better.

“ Hymie, It feels weird writing something I want you to hear but family will read. There’s so many things I wish we talked about and at the same time I don’t know what to say. Death is somehow the only certainty but it’s taboo to talk about. I wish a funeral was more of a celebration of your life instead of an unfortunate get together. I wish people looked at things differently. You’ll always be the life of every party. 💖

“ My Hymie, I’m always going to cherish our late night crime show binges and our snack trays. I’ll always remember how special and loved you made me feel. There are no amount of words to describe how much I’ll miss you but I know you are happy and you will always be in my heart. I love you 💖

“ Thank you for the years of love and friendship. Your love of family, Black Friday shopping, Cowboys, and Gummi Bears are the fond memories I’ll carry. Mendy, Dylan, Ivy, Preston and I will cherish you forever. And I’ll keep it “weepy” just for you.

“ My Dear sweet Kim, They're are no words. But I will try. We never expected this , never planned for this. I miss you so very, very much. The loneliness is unbearable ! They only comfort I have is your family and mine. All of them have been so loving and supportive. I could not travel this awful path without each and every one of them . God bless them all . I'm happy to know you are now with our wonderful son Taner and you and him are flying high with the Lord and angels in Heaven. You have suffered and grieved for him for 14 years now . The grieving and suffering for you is now over . I will continue to honor Taner's memory and now yours in every way I can to make you proud. Life is already so much harder without you , I'm trying my best, please be with me in sprit every day . Rest In Peace my love . I hope to see you both very soon . 💔💔💔💔💔💔💔💔💔💔
