“ When I was a child, I got to spend Sunday afternoons with Marshall Lain and Lillie Mae when my dad and mom were visiting church members. I think my dad, Les Farrell, did the ordination of Marshall when he became a deacon. When I was older I walked past his dad’s house after school and stopped to talk to him. I also remember the cafe that Mr. Tullos owed at the Y west of Hugo. Such fond memories of a wonderful family.

I wrote that wrong the older Marshall Tullos was his dad, but he was actually his grandfather.

“ The news of Marshall's passing is heartbreaking. He was always such a character! My love, prayers, and thoughts are with Lillie, the boys, and the rest of the family. I have always thought so much of him and the family. I am currently deployed and heartbroken that I can't be there for the services. May the Lord provide comfort as you navigate this life in Marshall's absence until you see him again.
