“ I remember going to Grandma's house and playing with the Lincoln logs trying to recreate a house or barn. When I would arrive she would always meet us on the porch with cookies inside waiting. I remember also that she never hesitated to tell Grandpa that he had already told his stories many times before. She was a quiet woman, but an amazing one at that who knew how to lead by example. She never preached but just did and I love her for it. I hope her and Grandpa are dancing together once again. Love you Grandma.

“ Grandma always had homemade cookies and pies waiting for everyone. Every little (and big 😊) kids dream!!! 😊 She used to make us the most beautiful dresses when we were little. She kept busy gardening, cooking good food, sewing, going to Church, taking care of Grandpa and then painting, until she couldn't. Grandma didn't lecture us or tell us what to do, she just lived in accordance with her beliefs. She led by example and through her example, I learned the importance of taking care of myself and of my home. She was a good Grandma. Love you ❤️

“ Im so glad that dad and I went to visit her Christmas Day. She was doing so good and we had a great visit and conversation! She definitely enjoyed the candy and cookies dad brought her! She had me open them for her and was eating them before we left. Many prayers and much love sent as we mourn our loss and yet celebrate her life and Heavenly gain.
