“ I am so devastated to have just heard about Preston’s passing. He was a light in everyone’s life. Whenever I was down he was always there for me and did whatever possible to cheer me up. He cared about other people so deeply. Whenever we would hangout I know I would be endlessly laughing. He was one of the funniest people I’ve ever met. I will always cherish our memories from meeting in speech class, dressing up for Halloween together, taking our doggies on play dates, going to a concert, and just hanging out watching American horror story or the office. I am so blessed to have met him and had the years of friendship with him.

“ I still haven't come to terms that one of my best friends from Highschool is no longer with us. Some of my funniest memories are with Preston. From him being such a good sport and dancing to mexican music at my quinceañera, to coming and visiting me when I had my son. He insisted he was Danny's Godfather and loved him as such. If Preston ever thought I was sad he would always call me and take me to sonic until he thought I felt better. Preston, thank you for being my rock and probably my funniest friend, I'll miss you friend but I will always cherish our memories. I'm so thankful to have had you in my life.
