“ He was truly an angel from the lord himself. Rey was my bus driver for years, my family and I loved him dearly. My nana even worked with him as she works for Aubrey ISD as well. Even after I no longer rode the bus and even within the last few years after I've graduated every time I saw him, he still gave me hugs with a big smile on his face. Prayers for his family and everyone else in this small town that got to love him and be in his presence as well. Gone but never forgotten, he is big piece of my childhood.

“ A beautiful memory of my dad is a concert we went to of an artist whose songs we both shared a love for (Vicente Fernández). I was still in a wheelchair after my car accident so we got the best seats! The artist sang many songs but I knew dad was waiting on a specific one. The artist acted as though he was finished and my dad looked sad because that song didn't play. Then all of a sudden he came back out and played the song daddy was waiting for. I saw his face just light up in happiness and watched him sing along. I knew without him saying that song reminded him of his relationship w/mom. That was the best moment I've ever had.
